

Name of the Cell/Department:The Management Department

Academic year: 2022-23

Name of the program:Tedx

Date:21-11-2022

Venue: Main Auditorium

Description:

On the intellectually stimulating day of November 21, 2022, Invertis University proudly hosted a TEDx event, featuring an array of inspiring talks and ideas. The event was a testament to the commitment of Invertis University in fostering a culture of innovation, knowledge sharing, and community engagement.

The TEDx event at Invertis University was a local, independently organized TED event that brought together a diverse group of speakers and attendees, all driven by a common passion for sharing ideas and sparking meaningful conversations. The event was designed to provoke thoughts, challenge perspectives, and inspire action.

The talks covered a wide range of topics, including technology, education, entrepreneurship, social issues, art, and more. Each speaker was carefully selected based on their expertise and ability to deliver impactful talks that resonated with the audience.

The event commenced with an opening address by the event organizer, highlighting the significance of TEDx and the importance of fostering a culture of innovative thinking and open dialogue. The talks that followed were thought-provoking, captivating, and left a lasting impression on the audience. The speakers were passionate and eloquent in conveying their ideas, weaving narratives that captivated the audience's attention. The talks were interspersed with performances and interactive sessions, adding a dynamic and engaging element to the event.

Speakers shared personal stories, experiences, and insights, encouraging the audience to think critically and take proactive steps towards positive change. The talks inspired attendees to challenge norms, embrace creativity, and find innovative solutions to societal and global challenges.

In addition to the live talks, the event encouraged networking and dialogue among attendees. Participants engaged in lively discussions during breaks, exchanging thoughts and ideas sparked by the talks they had just witnessed.

The TEDx event at Invertis University successfully achieved its goal of sparking meaningful conversations and inspiring the attendees. The audience left the event with a renewed sense of purpose and a drive to make a difference in their respective fields, embodying the true essence of TED's mission - "Ideas Worth Spreading."

In conclusion, the TEDx event at Invertis University was a remarkable platform that fostered the exchange of innovative ideas, leaving a lasting impact on all those in attendance. The talks challenged conventional thinking and encouraged a collective endeavour to create a better and more informed world.

Registrar
Invertis University
Bareilly

Coordinator