

Invertis University's I-Tech – The Technical Club Spearheads Empowering Personality Development Workshop

Invertis University's I-Tech – The Technical Club orchestrated a dynamic Personality Development Workshop on November 5, 2019, at Seminar Hall 1. Tailored for final-year engineering students seeking placement opportunities, the event showcased a comprehensive program aimed at refining crucial skills for professional success.

Focused on bolstering communication, confidence, and interview proficiency, the workshop featured expert speakers from diverse industries. Students engaged in interactive sessions, role-playing exercises, and mock interviews, fostering a hands-on learning experience.

Organized by Invertis University, this initiative underscored the institution's commitment to nurturing holistic development among its students. Feedback from attendees highlighted the workshop's pivotal role in enhancing their readiness for the competitive job market.

The I-Tech – The Technical Club, along with university faculty, collaborated to ensure the workshop's success, marking a milestone in preparing students for their imminent career endeavors.
